

Telling secrets

Not to be done (usually does — my
"mistakenly" interpretation
(as McN, VTM, WPE, LBJ, does ...))

How much do we lose by ~~not~~ denying ^{on usually PP} topics — in way of "honest, frank advice"? Listen to N
(PP) and decide,
How much "and to be secret"??

Was PP an exception-
that had to be told?

(A true point of
the story — a stunt,
for "real" history).

Secrecy

"Should there be a ~~crime~~
law protecting govt
secrets — providing for ^{fines, or} prison (or corp. punishment for telling secrets"?
(any and all? or, some?)

± Does the USG need
more secrecy, and
greater sanctions against secret-tellers, than
the tobacco companies,
asbestos, cars, polluters?

The game starts with the same position
(same, often)
& disorienting (guilt, power, that (tobacco & other)
corporations, or bureaucratic hierarchies, or other hierarchies (churches, unions, schools...)

Have: career, job
membership
access
social ties
prestige

Should it also have
criminal penalties?

AND LAW/PRISON AS SYMBOLS OF NORMS,

Yes: 2) You represent
people, not. interest.
You officials must be entrusted with judgment of who serves (bo.
- esp. mil. events is war
foreigners - "home", vs.
public, Congress - is messing.

3) Survival of nation is at stake. (How often? not sure) and what if secrets are not told?
as for tobacco corps - huge human stakes, if secrets are not told...

4) Prep. for war (events)

(But what if needs

of: avoiding wars?

ending war?

role of democracy,

Congress, public, election

budget... ^{Reins}

CON: 1) Power of gov abuse

2) Corruption of money/power

3) Role of Congress, courts, public

4) The stakes → and for

(3) above to know.

You and corps already
bump for too many cents
just with corporate
bonuses

(though you "benefit"
from having it also for criminal bonuses).

Could you "advertise"
without that having,
and more.

I say: Yes; but (for public): with less sweating, though still with too much (like corps).
